3. Visited Congressman Hale Boggs and briefed him orally on the case of [REDACTED] an ex-employee who had resigned "for personal reasons" while numbers and other charges were pending against him. Mr. Boggs appears generally satisfied with our handling of the case, and indicated that he would talk to [REDACTED] and advise him to continue his search for employment elsewhere. I told him that, if approached by other agencies, we would not give a report which might prejudice his possible employment. (cc: Col. White and Dir/Personnel).
